Formica Solid Phenolic HPL

Toilet Cubicles

Understanding that there is a need for the restroom cubicle system the ability to tolerate heavy usage and deterioration, Formica USA Cubicle is crated, This restroom cubicle system functions under harsh conditions and remain as magnificent as ever, Integrating both nylon and aluminum materials in the construction, as the aesthetics of the restroom are brought to a new level.

Cabinet(Labs & Toilets)

Formica is a high-pressure laminated and alternatively, a solid composite panel, engineered as laboratory grade surfaces commonly exposed to acids, solvents, general reagents and cleaning agents. It is primarily suitable for laboratory work surfaces, cabinet drawer fronts, and washroom vanity cabinets. Formica provides exceptional chemical and stain resistance with the flexibility and desidn advantage of post-forming grade laminate and thick, solid phenolic cores.

Lockers

Breaking away from conventional meatl lockers, SMR lockers explore the possibilities in the usage of High Pressure Laminated (HPL) compact boards. Unlike conventional lockers made of wood, metal or plastic which are more prone to rot, corrosion and vandalism HPL lockers are amazingly durable.
